

CALL ME BY MY NAME: Seeking Solutions with Debteraw, XXI
Wolde Tewolde, alias Obo Arada Shawl

December 13, 2007

“If a more likeable human being than DEBTERAW is currently around EPRP, I haven’t found him or her.”
Anonymous

A WEEK of celebration on the occasion of the 2nd Anniversary of Debteraw’s Website
A DAY of appreciation for DTSGM’s work
A GENERATION of struggle by EPRP members

The event was sponsored by Assimba.org and FINOTE orgs. (Both radio and print). For those who missed the occasion, I recommend them to visit the archives. For those who have participated, I would like to thank and encourage all individuals and groups who testified for the figure father of EPRP – aka DTSGM to continue not only to demand for his whereabouts but also to continue to follow his path of struggle.

The event became a process for the Immortalized of Debteraw and according to the numerous testimonies it is summed up as follows:

Debteraw was admired by many people for his convictions and a love for his country, Ethiopia, his skills as a communicator, his understanding of himself and his honesty. It seems that he was incapable of dishonesty.

But above all, everyone and everybody admired Debteraw’s ability to relate to people. Outwardly Debteraw looks shy but was able to connect with any one, be it a professor, a proletariat, a patriarch or member of a press. Debteraw basically liked people whether rich or poor, with Title or not Title.

But more importantly Debteraw connected with the people closer to him. He truly cared about the people in his organization of EPRP. As far as he is concerned, he treated everybody the same whether from the Politbureau, CC or ordinary member.

In short, Debteraw has solid relationships because everyone liked being around Debteraw because he loved people and connected with them. Debteraw understood that relationships were the glue that held his EPRP members together – the more solid the relationship, the more cohesive EPRP would

Be. More importantly Debu believe in people before they have proved themselves. He sees the best in people to have faith in themselves.

What: I am War, Revolution and Terror (WRT)

Who: Born in Eritrea, raised in Agame Awraja, educated in Addis Ababa and have worked all over Ethiopia and currently residing in America. What is my identity? Can anyone tell me or put a label on me, please?

When: From the time of HENOK (descendant of Adam & Eve)

Where: From AAssab port to RAS Dashen i.e. AAGMELAGO

So where is the land of Peace and Democracy? Nowhere in Ethiopia as you can see from the above resource and data analysis. Practically all organizations and political parties cry for Peace and Democracy. Do they know that EPRP has been crying for these two words since its inception? EPRP members and its supporters have been literally and figuratively were massacred for asking for PEACE in Eritrea and DEMOCRACIA in Ethiopia. Nobody listened and nobody seems to learn from EPRP either. Is it not a shame not to learn from the experience and history of EPRP?

LESSONS TO BE LEARNED FROM DEBTERAW

PAST

- Discipline
- Integrity
- Responsibility
- Self-Respect and
- Team work

PRESENT

- Respect
- Shared Experience
- Trust
- Reciprocity and
- Mutual enjoyment

In Short (DIRST)

(RSTRM)

CONCLUSION

Debteraw's website is getting passionate. Passion is the difference between doing a job and being a professional. The passion for Debteraw's website is the difference between liking DTSGM as a person and claiming him as READ for EPRP and as national hero for Ethiopia and Eritrea.

Special thanks for Debteraw Team. Let the light for Truth is ignited in your Website beginning on Christmas and spreading throughout via other websites for the sake of EPRP.

For comments and criticisms

